BISH. FOWLER'S LIFE ENDED

One of Oldest of Methodist
Bishops Died To-day

AT HOME IN NEW YORK

Failed to Rally After an Operation for Diabetes—He Presided Over Vermont Conference in Barre, Also in Montpelier.

New York, March 20.—Bishop Charles Henry Fowler of the Methodist Episcopal church North, died at his home here to-day. Death resulted from a failure to rally after an operation for diabetes, the operation having proved too much for his condition, which had been weak for over a year.

Bishop Fowler was born in Ontario, August 11, 1837, and was therefore not quite 71 years of age. He was elected a bishop of the Methodist church in 1884, and was one of the oldest of the list of bishops in point of years of service. He was graduated from North-western university at Evanston, Ill., and while there distinguished himself as a member of life-saving crew.

Bishop Fowler has twice presided over the Vermont Methodist conference, being in Barre when the conference was held here in 1896 and being in Montpelier in 1904 as presiding officer of the conference. He is known to a large number of the members of his church in Vermont.

GOVERNOR GUILD SLIGHTLY BETTER

Life of Massachusetts' Chief Executive Still Hangs in the Balance—He Is Courageous, However—Today's Bulletin.

Boston, March 20.—Still more favorable messages came to-day from the bedside of Massachusetts' chief executive, the news being that Governor Guild passed a comfortable night and his condition was encouraging to-day. Dr. Winslow's first bulletin to-day, issued at 7:30 o'clock, was as follows:

"Gov. Guild passed a comfortable night and slept quietly. His condition is very encouraging."

It was generally declared this morning that the governor was better, but by no means out of danger.

The same trend appeared in a bulletin which was issued at the State House at 9:50 o'clock this forenoon. The bulletin read:

"The governor passed a comfortable night, but his condition remains unchanged."

It now seems to be a question whether the patient's strength will hold out. On account of a complication of diseases, rheumatism, grippe, cirrhosis of the liver and Bright's disease, nothing but his naturally good constitution can pull him through.

Governor Guild's courage is still good, as stated by a person who left his bedside late yesterday. He said:

"The governor realizes the critical nature of his disease, but says he is bound to live. He is, however, very weak and because of this weakness is now suffering but little compared with what he has gone through. The doctors hold out some hope to Mrs. Guild, and she is bearing up very bravely. The crisis has now arrived."

DIVORCED WOMAN WOULDN'T MARRY HIM

Herbert Kremer Shot Himself to Death in New York City Last Night—
Woman Was Present at The Time.

New York, March 20.—Herbert Kremer, son of President William M. Kremer of the German-American Insurance company, last night shot and killed himself in the apartments of Mrs. Lafayette R. Gleason, who was formerly the wife of the clerk of the state Senate and secretary of the Republican state committee. Mrs. Gleason later said that Kremer had become despondent following the termination by her of their wedding engagement.

Kremer was 30 years of age and had been employed as clerk in the office of an insurance broker. He renewed an earlier acquaintance with Mrs. Gleason when she secured a divorce two years ago. A few months ago, Mrs. Gleason said she induced him to enter a sanitarium at Stamford, Conn. A few weeks later he left the place and in December went to an institution at W. Plains.

Five weeks ago, she said, she broke their engagement and on Monday last he came to her apartments at the St. Charles and attempted suicide by taking poison. Yesterday she said she met him by appointment to arrange a matter of business and last night he accompanied her to her rooms. He had been there but a few moments, according to Mrs. Gleason, when exclaiming: "Well, here goes," he fired a bullet into his brain.

MME. GOULD IN NEW YORK.

Former Countess de Castellane Arrives on The Adriatic.

New York, March 20.—Accompanied by her two children, Mme. Gould, formerly the Countess de Castellane, arrived here yesterday on the White Star liner Adriatic, which reached quarantine about noon. Her visit here is expected to last several months, and she is said to have made no definite plans for returning to France. She appeared on the passenger list as Mrs. Miller. Mme. Gould's sister, Miss Helen Gould, notified the customs authorities that she would not go down the bay to meet her sister at quarantine, but would be at the pier to receive her. It was thought that her brother, George Gould, would also be at the pier.

Prince Helle de Sagan, a cousin of Count Boni, who has been an ardent suitor for Mme. Gould's hand since her divorce, is expected here within a week. It was at first reported he would come by the same steamer, but this he did not do. He secured a passport, however, saying he intended visiting the United States.

SMALL POX SCARE IN NEWBURY VILLAGE

Several Cases of What Was at First Thought to Be Chicken Pox Have Developed—Dr. Holton Called.

Newbury, March 20.—The residents of this village are alarmed over small pox which has broken out in their midst and especially so over the large number of persons exposed. The disease first made its appearance in the illness of Fred LaFrance. This was first called chicken pox, and later differently diagnosed.

Dr. Holton of the state board of health was called Saturday and pronounced it small pox.

Previous to knowing what it really was, a large number of people had been exposed, and there are many anxiously awaiting developments. At present the disease is confined to the home of Mrs. T. P. Bailey and is closely quarantined. Mrs. Bailey and daughter, and the family of Mr. LaFrance have been exposed and it is reported that Mrs. Bailey has been taken ill with the disease.

Mr. LaFrance's father at South Newbury was taken ill with the same disease. He has recovered but is in quarantine. The cases at present are mild and it is hoped the disease may be kept from spreading.

Brown, of Concord and fireman Allen Davis of Concord were killed and engineer Guy Dow of Worcester was seriously injured this morning in a collision of a Canadian Pacific freight train, northbound, with a local freight from this town on the White Mountain division of the Boston & Maine railroad. The trains collided between the Haverhill and East Haverhill stations. Both locomotives were demolished and several cars were destroyed. The accident was probably due to a mistake in orders.

Due to this accident, there was no connection between the Montpelier Wells River train and the Boston & Maine train from Boston this forenoon, and the mails from Boston did not arrive in Barre at noon to-day as usual.

ITALIAN ARISTOCRACY SAY IT'S A MISTAKE

For Duke of Abruzzi to Marry Miss Katherine Elkins, an American Woman—King's Feelings in Doubt.

Rome, March 20.—Positive statements of King Victor's attitude toward the Duke of Abruzzi's proposed marriage to Miss Katherine Elkins are easy enough to get, but the real fact is that no one knows how the king actually feels about it. Italian aristocracy, however, believe the Duke is making a grave mistake. It is very sure that the king's consent has not been secured unless Miss Elkins consents to become a Catholic. With a morganatic marriage nobility would find no fault.

NEARLY FIRE PROOF.

School Building at Enosburg Falls Which Was Opened Today.

Enosburg Falls, March 20.—The new school building here was formally opened for public inspection today. This building, which is a two-story structure, was authorized at a special village meeting held in March, 1906, which appropriated $23,000. This sum was enlarged by gifts from different persons so that the building represents an approximate expenditure of $31,000. The outer walls are of solid brick as are also the partitions. All the rooms have steel ceilings. The doors swing outward and there are two means of exit, so that the building can be quickly emptied. Its total destruction by fire is considered to be practically impossible.

"LANBLIKE TOM"

Handed Over the Stakes to His Athletic Cousin, Con, Says Douglass.

William Douglass, whose good money (pocket) after the latter's 31-minute trip on foot to Montpelier Wednesday afternoon, still feels aggrieved over the disposition made of the stakes. He said to-day: "Tom Bucky, who was chosen referee by Sullivan himself, gave what a fair decision, as Sullivan did not walk as he agreed. Tom O'Leary, who was the stakeholder, as I understand, is a cousin of Con. When Con said, 'Where is the money, Tom?' he like a lamb handed the money over to his athletic cousin against the decision of the referee. There the matter stands."

MAKE LEVY TO PAY DEBT

Orange County Telephone
Co. Directors So Voted

COMPANY GROWING FAST

There Are Now About 1,200 'Phones on the System, With Prospect of Taking on Many More—Two More Companies Enter Vermont.

The directors of the Orange County Telephone company who were in session nearly all of yesterday afternoon at the City hotel made at least one important move during the session. A vote was carried that an assessment of three dollars be levied on each share of stock, but it was further provided that a discount of 33-1/3 per cent be allowed if the amount of the assessment was forthcoming on or before July 1st, reducing the amount to two dollars on a share.

This assessment is for the purpose of liquidating the present indebtedness of the company. The debt amounts to about $2,000 and was incurred largely in the introduction of the system in Barre and Montpelier within a few years. The company is making good headway in Montpelier, having already installed about one hundred 'phones, with the prospect of putting in forty more within a short time.

This company has had a remarkable growth since it was incorporated in 1902. Since that time the number of instruments has increased from 600 to over 1,200 at the present time.

The officials of the company, all of whom were present at yesterday's meeting, are president, E. H. Kennedy, Chelsea vice-president, C. A. Speare, West Corinth; secretary-treasurer, R. H. Williams, West Corinth; directors, A. E. Covall, Montpelier; Harry Daniels, East Montpelier; Dr. E. E. Ellis, Brookfield; G. R. Andrews of Northfield, the former president of the company, was also present and addressed the meeting on matters pertaining to the business.

That independent telephone companies are making inroads in Vermont is indicated by the fact that two companies filed papers with the secretary of state yesterday.

The White Mountain Telephone & Telegraph company of New Hampshire, which has a capital stock of $200,000, with headquarters at Bradford, and the Coos Telephone company of New Hampshire, which has offices at Newbury, were the concerns which signified their intention of doing business in Vermont.

DECISIVE GAME ARRANGED.

Spaulding and Montpelier High Girls Meet Thursday, March 26.

The managers and advisers of the girls' basketball teams of Spaulding and Montpelier high schools are to compete for the championship of the girls' intercity high school league met at Montpelier yesterday afternoon and decided to play off the game next Thursday evening. A toss-up on the floor resulted in favor of Montpelier, and the game will probably be played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium at Montpelier. The teams are tied for first place, with four games won and two lost. Strangely enough, the two previous contests between the two schools resulted in a victory for Spaulding while on Montpelier's floor and for Montpelier on Spaulding's floor. The Spaulding girls are putting in the evenings practicing for the game, and their supporters are hopeful of winning the championship.

FUNERAL TO-DAY.

Of Juan De Collaines, Who Was a Veteran of the Civil War.

The funeral of Juan De Collaines, who died at Montpelier Wednesday night of Bright's disease, was held this forenoon from St. Augustine's church in Montpelier. He had been confined to the house since last August.

He was born in Michigan 67 years ago. His mother died when he was ten years of age and his father when he was 15. He was of a roving and adventurous spirit and during his life has visited every state in the Union. When the Civil war broke out, he was in Massachusetts. He immediately enlisted and went to the front, where he remained until the close of hostilities, becoming quartermaster sergeant of Company A, 5th Massachusetts Cavalry.

Later he came to Montpelier and established himself as a barber.

A large delegation of stime cutters attended the funeral of Stephen Hargin, which was held yesterday morning at St. Augustine's church. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery. Augustus Shambro, Louis Wood, Frank Carroll, Dennis Ryle and Thomas McQueney of Montpelier and Patrick Brown of Barre acted as bearers.

WAS BORN IN GLASGOW.

Mrs. Sophia Williamson Died This Morning, Aged 23 Years.

She is survived by her husband and two children one two years of age and one three days.

The funeral services will be held at the house at two o'clock Sunday afternoon.

MANUFACTURERS MEET TO-NIGHT TO TALK IT OVER

This the Result of Yesterday's Conference Between Committees from Manufacturers and Granite Cutters.

The committees from the Manufacturers' Association and the Granite Cutters' Union met in a three-hour conference yesterday afternoon in an endeavor to agree on a wage scale, but arrived at no definite conclusion. As no meeting of the Manufacturers' Association has been held since the tie-up in the granite industry began nearly three weeks ago, yesterday's conference adjourned at 4 o'clock to allow the committee from the boxes to call a meeting of the Association and talk the situation over. This meeting has been called for this evening. To-morrow afternoon the two committees will meet again in another effort to agree on the three points still in dispute and which have prevented a settlement thus far.

The committees from the manufacturers and from the polishers met this afternoon at 1:30. This is their first meeting since the tie-up began. Although progress towards a settlement of the differences between the manufacturers and the different unions seems to be making headway slowly, each conference brings the two sides a little nearer agreement and it is barely possible to-night's meeting and to-morrow's conference may bring matters to a head in Barre.

SENDING OUT CHECKS TO CANCEL DEBTS

Base Ball Association, Which Meets the Requirement of Diogenes, Is Pleasing Many People.

If Diogenes were alive to-day and particularly anxious to find an honest man or organization, he would not doubt he directed to the Barre-Montpelier Base Ball association. He'd find it, too.

The clerk of the association has just finished putting the finishing touches to the framework of debt which has been hanging over the magnates since the disastrous financial season last summer: checks, good for cash, were the finishing touches. Not quite all the indebtedness has been liquidated, but most of it.

A large proportion was due the players and managers for salaries and to their boarding-house keepers. These bills have been paid in full. The other creditors were offered seventy cents on the dollar and that plan was received with satisfaction by most of them.

That's the best the finances of the association would allow, and appreciating that fact, most of the creditors have accepted the money and are pleased at that.

The directors found that the total obligations chalked up against them were $1,904, and they had $1,388 to meet the debts after the successful base ball fair held in Barre and Montpelier last winter. The directors had hoped to clear the bills to the last cent, but the forgotten debts began to pile in as soon as it became noised abroad that the association had made money on the fair.
